

Indiana has a very good Telephone Privacy Law which has made our life much easier to live. We no longer get 4-5 calls a night, usually when we are sitting down to dinner. We usually only get about 1-2 every 2-4 weeks. I feel that is a great improvement and the FCC should not implement any proposal that will lessen Indiana's law. We no longer have to let the answering machine pick up every call, but can actually answer the phone without the fear of there being a telamarketer on the other end.

Thank you for allowing me to comment on this particular law.
